Grand Daughter Ruler Wins Again

Elks Keep Mrs. Smith

The Courier
Sat 9-2-61
NEW YORK — Nettie B. Smith was returned to office as Grand Daughter Ruler of the IBPOE of W, following a heated campaign throughout the country.

Major interest centered on this election and it was believed that the results would be much closer than last year.

At the last votes were counted,
Mrs. Smith came out more than two-to-one over her nearest opponent. Final count was 910 votes for Mrs. Smith, 406 for Pearl Brown of Baltimore, former Grand Daughter Treasurer, and 186 for Lethrae E. Adams of California, and Vice Daughter Ruler.

The 12th annual Elijah Lovejoy Medal was presented to the NAACP executive secretary, Roy Wilkins; Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller attended together with his wife and son, and two-time Grand Exalted Ruler Hobson R. Reynolds of Philadelphia, was again returned to head the 500,000 member fraternal order.

Convention headquarters were at the Commodore Hotel in Downtown New York with many of the lesser and less affluent brothers jamming Harlem's Hotel Theresa and other hostels.

An estimated 1,500 persons jammed the Commodore's grand ballroom for the public meeting when the NAACP's executive director was principal speaker. Among other things they heard him say was:

"The price of being black includes being overcharged by bankers, overlooked by Congressmen, and being portrayed in Newburg, N. Y., as lazy, criminal and immoral."

MR. WILKINS was pointing out to the nationally played-up relief situations just outside New York City in which the impression is given that Negroes comprise most of Newburg's trouble wherein the majority of the unfortunates are whites.

JUDGE PERRY B. Jackson of Cleveland was re-elected Grand Treasurer; Emphrion Robinson of Brooklyn was elected Grand Inner Guard; C. L. Smith of California, Grand Esteemed Lecturing Knight, and Stanley Thomas of Rochester, N. Y., Esteemed Loyal Knight.

Ruler by the Grand Exalted Ruler Mrs. Smith is a tireless church worker. As a member of Salem directly after the former Daughter Ruler, Nettie Carter Jackson, was interred in Morana Cemetery, Staten Island. After meeting with the two top officials of the women's order, Miss Buena V. Berry, Grand Daughter Secretary of Norfolk, Va., and Mrs. Pearl Brown, Grand Daughter Treasurer of Baltimore, she has worked on various church committees and served for a period of time as president of the Women's Society for Christian Service, one of the great auxiliary organizations of the Methodist Church. She is a past executive member of the Manhattan Council of Churches and of the Protestant Council.

The new Grand Daughter Ruler is known for her deeply religious, quiet, but powerful personality. She has the reputation of getting things done without show or fanfare.

"I call upon every officer, every appointee and every member to move forward with the new Grand Daughter Ruler," he said. Mrs. Smith will take on great responsibilities, she will bring excellent experience and skill into her new position. She will expect, as I do, the fullest cooperation and support from every individual Elk. Together we go forward to higher heights, together we build and together we expand and solidify the forces of the greatest fraternal organization in the world."

Mrs. Smith responded with well-chosen words: "I pledge all that I have to carrying on the work of our dear departed sister. I will do the best I can and with God's help and yours, this organization will go forward to unprecedented achievements." A vigorous acclamation followed these expressions, all pledging loyalty and hard work.

Mrs. Smith is a native of Washington, D. C., receiving private and public school education in that city. When a young woman, she moved to New York City, residing there continuously ever since. In 1921, she joined Eureka Temple No. 22 and served with exceptional merit in all the important elective offices.

In 1941, she was accorded national recognition by the late Elizabeth Ross Gordon, by appointment to the strategic office of Special Deputy. The late Grand Daughter Ruler, Nettie Carter Jackson, re-appointed her. Which position was held until 1953. In that year she moved up to the position of Grand

BALTIMORE

The 30th Biennial Session of the Grand Masonic Congress, AF and AM closed the five-day convention here in Baltimore on Thursday as the more than 1,000 delegates and their families and friends departed for their homes in all areas of the United States.

The meeting was termed by W. T. Meade Grant Jr., the president general of the Supreme grand chapter, as the most "successful in years." New York City has been selected for the 1963 convention of the 60-year-old order.

Mr. Grant, a resident of New Orleans, was reelected president general while W. A. Edney of Natchez, Miss. was elected vice-president. Second vice president is Arthur Daley of New York City.

Treasurer is Wesley Harris, New Orleans. Elzie M. Williams, grand master of the Maryland host chapter, the M. W. Zerubbabel Grand Lodge, was elected to grand orator. Dr. George D. Burrell, New York, is grand lecturer.

THE ELECTION of officers came on Wednesday. Also on Wednesday was the grand ball and banquet at the Alcazar. More than 500 persons were present for the formal occasion.

The ball highlighted the many gatherings which began on Sunday with the parade in full regalia and program at Cornerstone Baptist Church.

Members of the order were welcomed by city officials including representatives of Mayor J. Harold Grady, Gov. J. Millard Tawes, Delegates Verda Welcome and Mrs. Irma Dixon who were present to extend greetings.

Memorial services were held at the Allen AME Church.

Also meeting in conjunction with the Masonic Congress were members of the Supreme Grand Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

The two conventions held joint services Sunday but went into separate business sessions on Monday at the Baltimore Temple, 2105 McCulloh St.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Twenty-three persons, including officers and members of the fraternal order, were paid honor recently at the Sheraton Hotel here when the Pennsylvania Grand Lodge of Prince Hall Free and Accepted Masons held its awards dinner.

Citations were made to the Prince Hall Mason of the Year, to 11 Masons of distinction, the citizen of the year, the outstanding worshipful master of the year, the outstanding lodge of the year, and to other outstanding Americans.

THE GRAND Worthy Matron of Deborah Chapter, Mrs. Ruth M. Tucker of Pittsburgh, was given a memento by the retiring grand master, A. William Hill Jr., and reciprocated by Mr. Hill a citation and "a payment on a chair in which he might sit and look at it."

Bishop R. R. Wright, one of the 10 outstanding Americans honored, gave a brief talk on the progress made by Negroes in the past 60 years. "We have been raised," said the bishop, "from the dead level of ignorance to a living perpendicular.

"I REMEMBER when I started to teach at $6 a month, 95 per cent of our group was ignorant. In my lifetime I have seen us come from depth to achievements to heights in business, politics and all other fields. I hope to live to see the day when my home state, Georgia, which is said to be a good place to be from, will be a good place to go to."

The following persons were cited for outstanding achievement in their fields: Wilma Rudolph, athletics; Bishop Wright, religion; Dr. Mays, president of Morehouse College, Atlanta, education; P. B. Young Sr., publisher of the Journal and Guide of Norfolk (represented by Eustace Gay of the Philadelphia Tribune), journalism and writing.

CITED IN absentia were A. Philip Randolph, labor; Thurgood Marshall, law; Dr. Percy Julian, science; Leontyne Price, opera singer; the late John Wesley Dobbs, fraternal; and the late John M. Adams, president of Safe Bus Company, Winston-Salem, N. C. The Citizen Award of the Year went to Benjamin Tayale, Philadelphia.

William D. Johnson, Stroudsburg, first Negro president of the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce, was named the outstanding Prince Hall Mason of the year.

DISTRICT DEPUTIES who served during Mr. Hill's regime surprised him with an oil painting of himself as "an expression of appreciation for his executive ability, his rare ability to get things done, and his intrepid honesty." Albert Letson, real estate broker, made the presentation.

Bishop David H. Sims of the AME church, pleaded with the organization to have "a larger and greater stake in Africa."

Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, who had just retired as president of the United Negro College Fund, made an appeal for support of this year's drive.

LEMUEL FOSTER of the Savings Bond Division of the United States Treasury, presented the grand lodge with a treasury award "for being one of its partners in this great thrift program."

Other program participants were the Revs. Thomas Logan, and Mr. Hairston; Thomas H. Lee, Samuel E. Casson, and Harold M. Comfort. High ranking Masons from Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia were presented.

Fifty-year service awards went to Moses Beckett, Percy R. Fells, 101; Thomas Gibbs, 86; Irvin E. Hall, Samuel E. McPherson, Harry E. Morrison, Harry T. Stewart, James E. Wallace, George W. White and Raymond J. Williams.

Dobbs Named In Suit Of

Savannah Eastern Star
dat. 1-21-61

By JOHN BRITTON

A Savannah, Ga., chapter of a women's fraternal order filed civil action in Fulton Superior Court Friday asking that the long-time Grand Master of their brother organization be barred from further attending meetings of their lodge.

The suit for injunctive relief was filed against John Wesley Dobbs, David P. Crosby, senior warden; Joseph S. Thomas, junior grand warden; Phillip S. McNeil, grand treasurer; and James A. Mingo, grand secretary.

Dobbs has been since 1932 the Grand Master of the Most Worshipful Prince Hall Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of Georgia, a group organized for social, benevolent and charitable purposes.

The women's group charged that Dobbs has, since taking office in June, 1932, attended and presided over the election and installation of officers of the Savannah women's fraternal order.

They further charged that such conduct by Dobbs has been persistently done since 1932 "without any legal right or authority."

After the Revolutionary War in 1789, the British Masons utilized Prince Hall, Founder of Free Masonry Among Colored People in the United States, to seek information about the white lodges in New England.

The story is told in Dr. Charles H. Wesley's new book published this week, "History of Prince Hall Grand Lodge of the State of Ohio."

The opening chapter deals with the history of colored masonry in the United States.

DR. WESLEY prints a letter from William White, August 30, 1792, grand secretary of the Grand Lodge of England, to Prince Hall.

The letter contained the printed proceedings of the Grand Lodge of England and the calendar for the year, and continued: —

"Would you let me know if the lodges in the enclosed list which are constituted by the Grand Lodge of England are yet in being, as I have never heard from them since the commencement of the last war in America, or indeed long before.

"And in case they have ceased to meet, which I rather apprehend, they ought to be erased from our list of lodges."

The letter closed with the sentence, "I remain with fraternal regard, Right Worshipful Brother, Your Obedient Servant and Brother, William White.

DR. WESLEY'S book consists of 457 pages with 78 illustrations.

One of them is the original charter granted by the Grand Lodge of England to the African Lodge of Boston, and another shows a conference between General George Washington and a delegation led by Prince Hall.

Hall, as the spokesman, urged the Commander-in-Chief to enroll colored men in the Colonial Army.

Prince Hall subsequently never heard from them since was admitted in the Army February, 1776, joining Dillingham's company.

Prince Hall Masons Establish Lodges for Alaskan Shriners

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — The United Supreme Council of Ancient and accepted Scottish Rite Masons, AEAONMS, Prince Hall affiliation, has established fraternal lodges for 32nd degree Masons and Shriners in Anchorage, Alaska.

Pittsburgh Pa.
Northern Lights Consistory, AASR and Al Hejaz Temple 99, AEAONMS, were the names given the newly organized bodies.

Prince Hall Masons from both Anchorage and Fairbanks availed themselves of the opportunity to become 32nd degree Masons and Shriners.

The Negro population of Anchorage is growing rapidly and presently is set at 5,100, exclusive of the hundreds stationed at Elmendorf Air Base and Fort Richardson, just outside the city.

It is expected that if the present high rate of stateside American Negro immigration to Alaska continues, blue lodges of Prince Hall Masons will soon be established in Ketchikan, Juneau, Cordova and Yakutat.

Dr. Hale Calls First Meeting Of Alpha Phi Alpha Officials

Dr. William H. Hale, president of Langston university, Langston, Okla., became general president of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity Jan. 1, 1961, following a long line of distinguished Americans as head of the organization.

Dr. Hale brings to the office the importance of education as a device in bringing about the desired social changes and will also lend support to the Alpha slogan, "A voteless people is a hopeless people."

The fraternity is dedicated to promoting advanced educational attainments and the necessity of obtaining and using the ballot to gain human rights that are ours constitutionally.

Alpha Phi Alpha claims partial credit for the recent decision ending bus station dining bias as a result of the Henderson vs Southern Railway decision in 1949. This Supreme Court case was financed by the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity and argued by the then president, Atty. Belford V. Lawson of Washington, D. C.

Installed by Founder

Dr. Hale was installed at the close of the 4th Anniversary convention in Washington, D. C., by one of the two remaining of the seven founders, Dr. Henry A. Callis of Washington, D. C.

The general president calls his first meeting of the officials Jan. 28 and 29 at the Commodore hotel, New York City, to plan the year's program and the 5th Anniversary Convention at the Sheraton hotel, Louisville, Ky., Dec. 27-30.

Committee members include: W. Barton Beatty, Montclair, N. J.; Millard R. Dean, Washington, D. C.; Kermit Hall, Philadelphia; William H. Brown III, Philadelphia; James T. Adams; Clifton R. Jones, Baltimore, Md.; Edward H. Ballard, Los Angeles, Calif.; Myles A. Paige, Brooklyn, N. Y.; William D. Coverdale, Yeadon, Pa.; and Frank L. Stanley, Louisville, Ky.

Dr. Henry A. Callis of 2306 E street, N.E., will be honored at an Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity dinner next Saturday in the Statler Hotel. The physician is one of two remaining founders of the 55-year-old all-Negro brotherhood. He will celebrate his 75th birthday at the dinner, which marks the birth of the Henry A. Callis loan fund for needy college students.

Jan. 5-6-61
HARTFORD, Conn. — Dr. William H. Hale, national president, and three past presidents will speak at the Alpha Phi Alpha eastern regional convention here Friday, May 5 through Sunday.

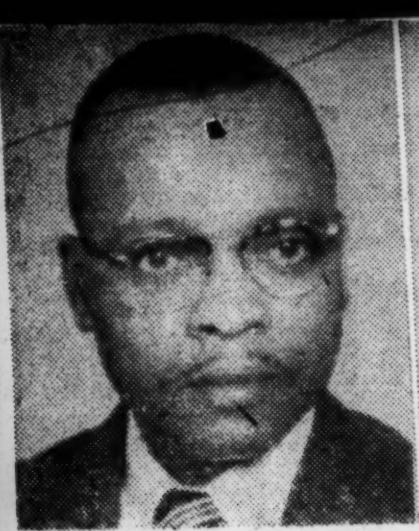

The sessions, to be held at Hotel Bond, 338 Asylum St., are expected to attract more than 300 delegates, many of them from undergraduate chapters.

The three former presidents are Judge Myles Paige of NYC, Frank Stanley of Louisville; and Belford Lawson of Washington.

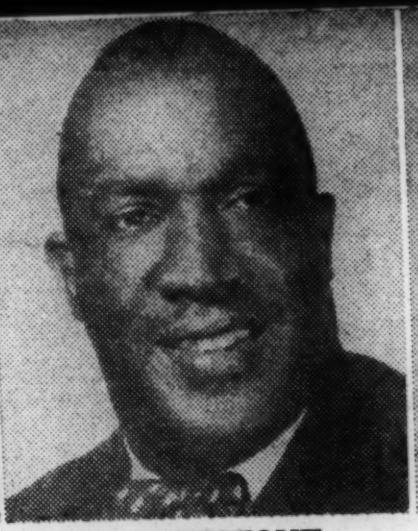

DR. ALFRED C. FENTRESS, Norfolk, Va., eastern vice president, will deliver the principal address at the opening session. Dr. Clifton R. Jones, Baltimore, director of educational activities, will serve as chairman of a series of workshops at the convention.

A crowded schedule of social activities has been planned, according to Dr. James S. Peters, chairman of the host planning committee. These include cocktail parties, a welcome dance sponsored by AKA's and Beta Sigma Lambda chapter, the annual banquet and a closed formal.

Mrs. Thomasina Norford, NYC, will speak at the Sunday morning worship service at which the Rev. Clinton Hoggard, national chaplain, will preside.

The fraternity's by-laws limit membership to "members of the white race who have accepted the Christian faith."

June 9, 1961
A five-man fraternity high council headed by Worthy Grand Chief Gerald E. Johnson, Cleveland attorney, met with undergraduate and alumni members of the Stanford chapter in a closed hearing.

13-6
The 54 Stanford ATOs voted unanimously to reject the national organization's order to de-pledge the Jewish members, according to Chapter President Michael Kavanaugh, San Francisco.

13-6
"We aren't trying to start a crusade," Kavanaugh said. "We just think we ought to choose our members regardless of race, color or creed."

The local chapter's stand received strong endorsement from Stanford President Wallace Sterling.

SUI Fraternity Admits First Negro Member

Iowa City, Ia.—Andrew J. Hankins, freshman from Waukegan, Ill., became the first Negro pledged to a white social fraternity at the State University of Iowa last Thursday night. He was accepted unanimously by Delta Chi fraternity, according to its president, Richard Boe.

Hankins, a guard on the S.U.I. freshman basketball squad, is majoring in pre-medicine and has a B-plus grade average.

One member of the fraternity said: "Andy came to visit our house, we liked him, and we pledged him—just as we would any other freshman."

Delta Chi, whose national headquarters is in Iowa City, has no "discrimination" clause in its national constitution.

Iowa U. Fraternity Pledges First Negro

AMES, Iowa.—(AP)—A white social fraternity at the State University of Iowa has pledged a Negro member for the first time in its history.

The student is Andrew H. Hankins of Waukegan, Ill., a member of the S.U.I. freshman basketball team and a former Waukegan high school star.

He was pledged by Delta Chi fraternity.

Eight of the 22 members of the Lake Forest college chapter of the Delta Chi fraternity recently broke away from the parent body feeling the national would not permit the pledging of Negroes.

S.U.I. has one Negro fraternity, Alpha Kappa Alpha, but Ralph Prusok, fraternity advisor, said that to his knowledge this was the first time any of the university's 19 white social fraternities has accepted a Negro member.

COLUMBUS, Ohio — (ANP) —
The last of two 45 fraternities at Ohio State University have reached agreement with their national chapters to drop restrictive and discriminatory sections from their constitutions.

This move, if adopted by Greek-letter organizations of other major schools across the nation could bring about a sharp change in the race relations picture on U. S. college campuses. This is so considered by observers who point out that while colleges and universities outside of the South are integrated, many of them for decades, prejudice remains to a marked degree along social lines. The fraternities and sororities have been held as a main source for this perpetuation of anti-Negro feeling in social life.

Meanwhile, at Ohio State, John T. Bonner, executive dean of student relations, said one of the fraternities made the change only 14 hours before the deadline of Sept. 18, set by the university.

Bonner announced 100 per cent compliance with the university regulation last week. All sororities have complied.

What the change does is simply prohibit the fraternity from refusing membership to anyone simply because of color, race, creed, religion or national origin.

But neither does it force a fraternity to rush anyone simply because of these factors.

Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, founded 50 years ago on the campus of Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind., will return to its birthplace Aug. 27-30 to hold its Golden Anniversary Grand Chapter meeting.

More than 1,000 delegates plus even more family members and friends will make the campus their headquarters during the convention.

A complete program has been planned, not only for the Kappas, but for their wives, for teen-agers and for children.

Theme for the golden year is "Reclamation, Rededication and Reflection." The grand conclave will be preceded by a three-day Undergraduate Leadership Conference Aug. 24-26 on campus. This will be the first such workshop sponsored nationally by the Kappas.

C. Rodger Wilson of Chicago is grand polemarch of the Kappas. Other national officers are:

Atty. Thomas Bradley of Los Angeles, senior grand vice polemarch; Ronald Sullivan of Cheyney State Teachers college (Pa.), junior grand vice polemarch; J. J. Henderson of Durham, N. C., grand keeper of records and exchequer;

Members of the grand board of directors are Atty. Richard B. Millsbaugh of Orlousas, La., Val J. Washington of Washington D. C., Atty. William M. Chisholm of New York City and Dr. Ezra D. Alexander (non-voting) of Indianapolis.

H. H. Holloway is executive secretary with office in Philadelphia. William L. Crump of Central State College, editor of the Kappa Journal, is general coordinator of the convention.

~~Kappas to dedicate~~ $200,000 memorial

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — The Indiana University chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity will dedicate a $200,000 chapter house next month ~~as a highlight of the 50th anniversary~~ national conference of the fraternity which was founded at Indiana University.

~~More than 8000 members of the fraternity from chapters all over the country will come to I.U. Aug. 26 to 30 for the conference.~~

Now under construction on 17th St. near Jordan Ave. in the university's new fraternity-sorority area, the three-story contemporary Indiana limestone building will provide quarters for 60 men.

THE NEW home will be known as the Elder W. Diggs Memorial of the fraternity, honoring the memory of the Indianapolis man who interested nine classmates in founding a fraternity at I.U. in 1911. The building will contain a memorial library.

As a part of the national convention, there will be a pilgrimage to the grave of Diggs in Crown Hill Cemetery, Indianapolis.

Social Action, Academic Excellence Omegas' Goal

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—

Academic excellence and social action are expected to be among the issues stressed by the Omega Psi Phi fraternity at its golden anniversary conclave Washington in August.

Dr. Lawrence A. Davis, president of Arkansas A. and I. College, Pine Bluff and Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College, Atlanta, emphasized these issues in a special panel highlighting the recent San Antonio conclave.

PRIOR TO leaving here, the Omegas renamed Dr. I. Gregory Newton, professor of political science at North Carolina College, Durham grand basileus.

Also renamed to official posts were: Cary D. Jacobs, first vice grand basileus, Indianapolis; James L. Felder, vice grand basileus, Clark College, Atlanta; Walter H. Riddick, grand keeper of records and seal, Norfolk; J. B. Blayton, Sr., grand keeper of finance, Atlanta; and Carl A. Earles, grand counselor, Los Angeles.

H. CARL Moultrie of Wash-

A cash award of $250 to the James Gabriello family of Providence, R. I., formerly of New Orleans, was another conclave highlight. The Gabrieles, who also have been cited by President Eisenhower, refused to withdraw their children from integrated New Orleans school.

AS A RESULT Gabrielle was fired from his water meter reading job and he and his family forced to flee New Orleans by segregationists.

The fraternity doubled its essay award prizes to $1,000 and made plans to hike its present national scholarship fund from its present $12,000.

HIGHLIGHTS of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity's 1960 session held in San Antonio, Tex., recently were the awarding of $250 to the fearless integration-minded Gabrielle family, planning an August 1961 conclave in Washington and renaming Dr. I. Greg-

College, Dr. Mays said, "Students cannot let up on academic excellence while pursuing social action programs. The golden anniversary conclave will be held in Washington in August."

"There is no substitute for academic excellence," Dr. Mays said.

"I AM NO COMMUNIST," Mr. Sutton asserted. . . and I am not a communist sympathizer, nor am I tainted with red, but Khrushchev was right in some of the things he said when he last attended the United Nations meeting in New York City. How can we as Americans come to the United Nations, sit down at the table in an effort to negotiate a lasting peace, talk about freedom versus slavery, democracy versus communism, the free world versus those who would enslave man."

"Mr. Khrushchev wanted to know how could we sit down and talk the speaker continued, to these Africans about peace and democracy when we know of course, that while they can go any place in New York City and perhaps some other places above the Mason-Dixon line as equal men and be denied the privilege of such rights in any Southern city.

DR. C. V. TROUP, president of Fort Valley State college, Fort Valley, Ga., addressing the conclave's public banquet, said '1960, in all probability, will go down in history as one of the most revolutionary years of the current decade.' The banquet honored the fraternity Distrnguished Service Chapter.

Dr. Troup also stated in this regard that 'it has been a year of seething unrest — a year of international tensions, and a year which witnessed the birth of several independent nations.

Sane Leadership Urged By McNeil

Wed, 1-18-61

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala. — The "so-called (Negro) elite" will be trampled by the masses" unless it provides sane leadership, a national fraternity official warned here Sunday.

Dr. Alvin J. McNeil, national director of education for Phi Beta Sigma fraternity, said the current world revolution is testing the leadership of the Negro elite.

In a second address commemorating the life and work of the late Dr. George Washington Carver, he said that Carver's life symbolized that success is not measured by degrees of scholarship nor material gains alone, but rather by service to mankind.

He added that the world needed to be reminded of the humility of Dr. Carver, one of the world's foremost chemurgists who fostered Tuskegee Institute's vast program of research in the biological sciences.

FRATERNAL ADDRESS

Dr. McNeil's earlier address was to the Second Annual All-Greek Retreat, sponsored by the Interfraternal Committee of Tuskegee Institute.

"When revolutions occur, and the elite fails to furnish proper leadership, they (the elite) are eventually trampled by the masses and lose their positions," he said.

He challenged the Greek-letter groups to shoulder the responsibility leadership because they are the academically superior and privileged.

"Sit-ins, kneel-ins and stand-ins are warnings that we . . . must provide the sane leadership necessary to solve the many complex problems facing us," he said.

Commerce Dept. Official To Speak Here April 19

The Lambda Sigma Chapter of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity will observe the annual celebration of "Bigger and Better Business Week" next week, along with 169 chapters of the fraternity throughout the country.

C. W. Moore, president of the local chapter, announced that "a top official" in the U. S. Commerce Department will appear as main speaker as an informal banquet to be held in the Butler Street YMCA on ~~Wednesday~~, April 19, at 7 p. m. Moore referred to Franklin H. Whittaker, who has been appointed by President Kennedy as Assistant to the Director of Public Information, U. S. Department of commerce, and a liaison officer for Secretary Luther H. Hodges.

The "Bigger and Better Business Week" observance was initiated by the late James A. "Billboard" Jackson, one of the pioneer Negroes in the field of public relations, who represented the Standard Oil Company. For more than a quarter of a century, the "Butler Business" project has been one of the major national programs of the fraternity.

Each year, the local chapter awards a citation to some Negro businessman of the community who has made outstanding progress toward creating bigger and better business. The 1960 award went to the Paschal brothers for the success and expansion of their business, and the opening of their new restaurant. The selection for 1961 will be announced at the April 19th dinner.

Joseph T. Bickers, local realist, is chairman of the "Bigger and Better Business Week" project in Atlanta. He said the fraternity is also planning to hold a business "clinic" in the near future, in which several national business consultants would bring valuable information to local businessmen. National president of the Sigma Fraternity is an Atlanta business executive, R. O. Sutton, vice-president of Citizens Trust Company.

'Bigger And Better Business' Speaker To Be L. J. Willie

Sat 4-23-61

L. J. Willie, secretary and comptroller of Smith and Gaston Interests, is scheduled to deliver the headline message at the annual observance of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity's "Bigger and Better Business" program set for 3 p. m. Sunday, April 23 at New Pilgrim Baptist Church pastored by the Rev. N. H. Smith, Jr.

The program is sponsored by the Tau Sigma Chapter of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, of which Parson Joseph Jones, Jr., is the president.

Mr. Willie, a member of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, is a lay reader of St. Mark's Episcopal Church. He is treasurer of the Birmingham Health Association and secretary-treasurer of Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Association.

He will be introduced by Harold L. Finch, teacher of business at Westfield High School.

Carlton C. Wells, coach at Carver High School (Birmingham), will give the position speech. E. B. Colvin, life underwriter for Pilgrim Health and Life Insurance Company will sing.

S. J. Bennett, president and manager of Jones Valley Finance Company, is chairman of the Sigma "Bigger and Better Business Week" promotion committee. He urged business men, the business students, housewives and the civic leadership to especially attend this program and hear Mr. Willie. Additionally he urged the membership of the host church to support the program.

Meantime Pastor Smith also issued an appeal to his membership and the community people to attend the program and hear Mr. Willie, one of the city's most brilliant business minds.

The church is located at 908 Sixth Ave. So.

U.S. Official To Atlanta Daily World Speak Wednesday

Atlanta, Ga. — The Atlanta Sigmas are joining with 169 chapters throughout the country in sponsoring the business week programs. C. W. Moore, business manager of Morris Brown College, is president of the Lambda Sigma chapter, the local group. R. O. Subori, vice-president of the Citizens Trust Company, is national president of the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity.

"Bigger and Better Business Week" is being celebrated this week in Atlanta and throughout the nation. Members of the Phi Beta Sigma seek to focus attention on Negro-owned businesses and to spur their improvement and expansion.

The Atlanta Sigmas will keynote the week with an informal banquet in the Butler Street YMCA this Wednesday at 7 p. m. Speaker for the occasion will be a top Negro appointee of President Kennedy, Franklin H. Whittaker, Assistant to the Director of Public Information, U. S. Department of Commerce and liaison agent for Secretary Luther H. Hodges.

The public is invited to hear Mr. Whittaker, an attorney, and publisher of the Pittsburgh Courier. He is expected to bring valuable information to the businessmen of Atlanta concerning the policies of the national administration and its new programs for business. Reservations should be phoned to the Y, JA. 4-0246.

Joseph T. Bickers, chairman of the Sigmas "Better Business" project, has urged the local businessmen to take advantage of this opportunity to get information "that may be translated into bigger profits," he said.

During the business week banquet, an Atlanta business will be cited for progress toward creating a bigger and better business. Last year the Paschal brothers, West Hunter Street restauranteurs, received the award.

Commenting on the observance, Dr. R. A. Billings, a former national officer of the fraternity, said that the "Bigger and Better Business Week" idea was originated by the late James A. (Billboard) Jackson, pioneer public relations expert, who represented the Standard Oil Company. He was one of the first Negroes to hold such a position with a major concern, and was later a consultant to the Federal Government for small businesses. Jackson's original idea, commented Dr. Billings, was not only improvement of Negro-owned businesses, but also integration and upgrading of Negroes in all business. Only in recent years has much emphasis been placed upon opportunities and equality in the general American business scene, he said.

Freedom 'Spiritual,' Atlanta Daily World Delta Meeting Told

Atlanta Daily World

By HARMON G. PERRY

Values are spiritual, and freedom is a spiritual concept of the mind; and no man is free unless he can rise above the circumstantial environment in which he lives. Thus spoke Morehouse College President Dr. Benjamin E. Mays as he spoke Friday night at a public meeting sponsored by the Southern Regional Conference of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

Dr. Mays, who shared the spotlight with Atlanta's Mayor William B. Hartsfield, was giving his own interpretation to the conference theme, "Appraising Values for a Creative Life in Freedom and Dignity." He saw the theme as both motivating and frustrating, and sought not to define freedom, only to give classical and far-reaching examples of it.

Dr. Mays, who has been appointed a member of the Advisory Council of President Kennedy's Peace Corps, said that a man can have all basic freedoms guaranteed by the Constitution and Bill of Rights and still be a slave. He termed man's real freedom as a condition within himself.

"Freedom," said Dr. Mays, "is spiritual and of the mind. It is unconditioned by geography, circumstances, or time . . . and only the disciplined mind is free." If the mind, heart, and soul are free the person can live in dignity, said Dr. Mays.

On values, Dr. Mays said that man lived not only by bread but by values, too, and the highest values are of a mental and spiritual nature . . . and these high values must lead to creative living.

He also saw ideals as being important too, if there is to be creative living and dignity. Ideals must be teasing, motivating, and inspiring, and when one ceases to chase high ideals, he dies, said Dr. Mays.

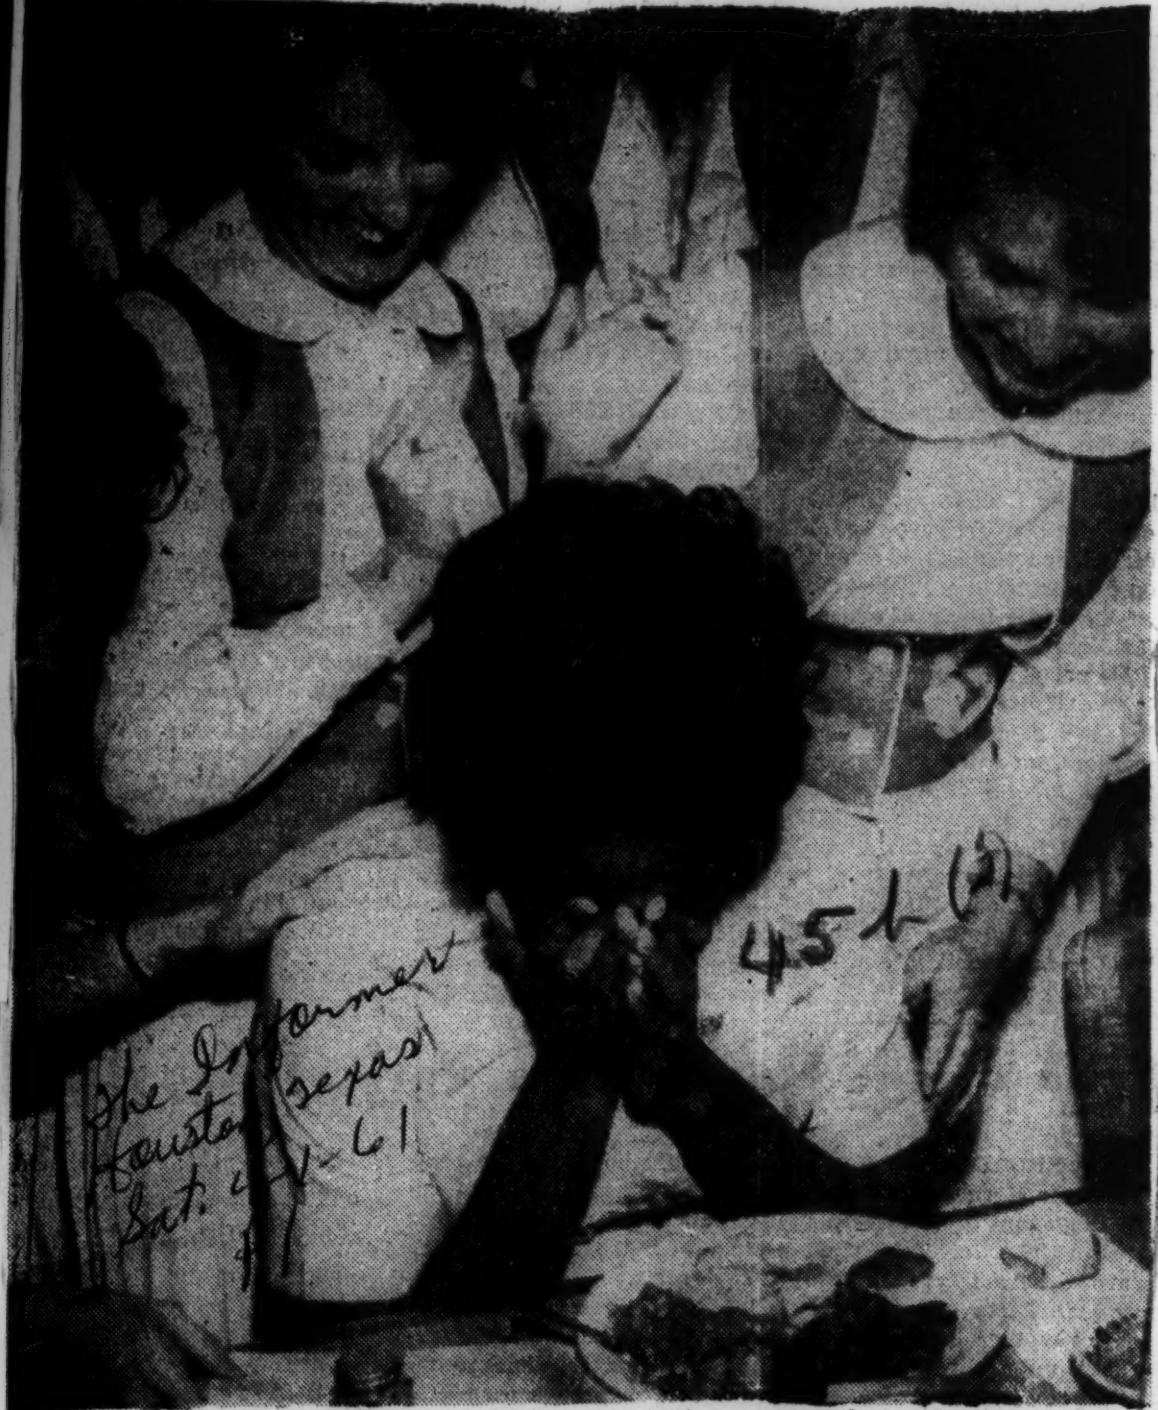

Mayor Hartsfield was cast in the role of a one man welcoming committee to the visiting Deltas, and set out to paint an image of Atlanta as an emerging regional capital of the Southeast, and as a leader over other Southern cities in all areas, including good racial relations.

Though still not committing himself as to his decision to run in the coming city election, Hartsfield did say that the proper climate depended on the election of strong people in all city government positions.

He had praise for the increasing number of Negro organizations that are exerting themselves toward improving the image of Atlanta, and regretted that too many intelligent and informed whites "are letting the demagogues do all of the talking."

The Mayor was introduced by Mrs. Lottie Harris, presiding soror for the occasion. Dr. Mays was introduced by Mrs. Cecil Edwards, Delta Regional Director.

The meaning of the occasion was explained by Miss Marie Barksdale, Delta executive director, and the response to Mayor Hartsfield's remarks was given by Atty. Cassandra Maxwell Birnbaum. Music was furnished by the South Fulton High Chorus.
